

Get the best out of your in-house interpreters with

Propio's Interpreter Rewards Program

Improve patient and interpreter satisfaction

Providing in-house interpretation to clients and patients is a highly-necessary service; one that requires a talented, available pool of qualified interpreters to ensure quality and accuracy, regardless of patient demand.

Propio's Interpreter Rewards Program is designed to provide your in-house interpreters with more work, offsetting the cost of language services for your health system.

Increase Interpreter Demand

Incorporate remote interpreting with our hybrid model.

If your health system is required to staff in-house interpreters, but is struggling to provide them with a sufficient workload, Propio's Interpreter Rewards Program provides a simple, dynamic solution.

As a leader in the remote interpretation space, Propio has developed a way to provide your interpreters with supplemental remote work, both for your healthcare system's needs and other Propio clients, if you choose.

Propio will provide your interpreters with tech configuration, easy onboarding, and access to our platform where they can easily log on and take calls when they're not interpreting onsite. We will put a call routing priority on your account so that those interpreters receive your healthcare system's calls first – at no charge.

Onboarding is simple.

Together, we can ensure that your technology setup is ideal, so that you can provide your patients with the best experience possible.

Offset Language Services Costs

Your healthcare system will receive a portion of the call cost.

The current environment is placing pressure on budgets throughout the hospital. Propio's Interpreter Rewards program offers a way to ease your language services budget challenges while ensuring that your in-house interpreters have sufficient work to do.

While priority is always given to calls for your patients, your interpreters will have the opportunity to take calls from Propio's other clients. When your in-house interpreters take these calls, your hospital will be paid for a portion of the cost of each of those calls.

These funds can be absorbed back into your healthcare system, and can ease the cost of required language services.

Propio is your partner in remote interpretation.

Together, we can help you offset your system's language services costs and provide your in-house interpreters with satisfying new work.
